Q: Managing a xib in xcode I have a view with a UITableView and a Button, and I'm adding a xib file to the view using Interface Builder. In the xib file, there is a UITableViewCell and a custom UIButton that I have created. So I added a class (in.h file) that is a subclass of UITableViewCell and a class (in.m file) that is a subclass of UIButton. I am able to access the properties of the xib file, however when I add a nib file to the view, I can not access the properties of the xib file. Does anybody have an idea? A: You should add UITableViewCell to your custom class so your can access to tableCell properties. Q: Deciding Roles in a large 4 player team I currently have a
