The code I'm using is: The form will submit successfully if the input is empty or if the name="q" is non-empty. Is there a way to prevent users from being redirected to another website? A: No. They can still go to google.com/search, but not a different URL. A: No, they can still type a different address into their browser and go to that address. Why don't you just block the submit button? A: You can always do a query string comparison: Hello world!"; } ?> I don't see the point of the if/else check. The user can type anything they want in the text field and the form will still submit just fine. Q: Magento 2.2.4 Noob question: How to translate file after install I'm new to Magento and trying to translate. I have an almost translation ready, but it isn't working. Magento seems to be ignoring my translation files for
