If you are a teacher you know the importance of using an easy to follow and understand assessment rubric for each assessment task. There are plenty of great resources online that cover many different styles of assessments, including the Adobe Captivate Assessment Rubric. The Adobe Captivate Assessment Rubric is an attractive, easy to read rubric that is broken down into sections for each step in the assessment process and have more than enough space to fill with space for each of your assessment criteria. The rubric is great for teachers to use when they are writing assessment tasks or when they are looking to review assessment tasks that they have already written. The rubric is not limited to Adobe Captivate or Captivate, but it will work great in any software that uses a similar method of scoring.

Step 1 – Introduction To start the assessment, you need to write the assessment title on the first page. This section is the first section of the rubric, so when the rubric is completed and read by someone, they will know that they are looking at the intro to the assessment. You should also include the assessment steps, which will tell the user what step they are on in the assessment task.

Step 2 – Task To start the task, you need to write the task title on the second page of the rubric. This is where the user will start the task. They will also know what they are working on, since it will be next to the task title. It is important to remember that the task title will be in italics, since it is what the user will see, as opposed to the assessment steps. You may want to have a brief sentence, or a couple
